

Check Federal Law About Harper

Charges Will Be Issued Here For Bad Checks

Police Chief Tells Of Activity of Missouri Man

Chief of Police Ross Lane said today he would contact federal authorities regarding the arrest here Saturday of William Thomas Harper, 33, of Overland, Mo., who admitted to city police he wrote a number of bad checks in Harrisburg late Friday.

Lane said if federal authorities did not want him, that charges of writing fraudulent checks would be issued in Saline county, Harper, who had been transferred to the county from the city jail, told police he was released on parole from Leavenworth federal penitentiary in April of this year.

Saturday morning police reported that Harper had written checks on the Harrisburg National bank late Friday and cashed one for $60 at the Fashion Palace, one for $16 at the Brokerage, one for $35 at Winkelman's Jewelry store and one for $25 at Kroger's. Later, police said one was reported cashed at the C. F. Gidcomb furniture store.

Cashed Checks at Eldorado

Chief Lane reported this morning that Harper also had operated in Eldorado, cashing checks there for $150 and $100 the week before.

L. J. Woolard of Eldorado told Harrisburg police he had co-endorsed a check for $100 with Harper so that Harper could cash a check at an Eldorado bank. He told local police that Harper took his auto to the H garage on Route 142 in Eldorado and had $55 worth of work done on the car and paid for the job, tipping $10. Then he got one of the garage owners to co-endorse a $150 check, which was cashed at the bank.

One other check popped up this morning. The owner of an Equality grocery store, whose name was not learned, was said to be going to Shawneetown today to file charges against Harper for a $50 check.

Chief Lane said a resident east of Harrisburg named De Bese told him Sunday that Harper had made the acquaintance of him and his family since he came Nov. 9 and offered him the job of managing a farm he had just bought in south-east Missouri. He showed the man a check stub "to prove it."

Admits Butcher Slaying

Find Ten Human Skulls

PLAINFIELD, Wis. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Earl Kileen announced today that reclusive farmer Ed Gein, in whose home 10 human skulls were found, made a "partial admission" to the butcher slaying of a woman storekeeper.

Gein, who at one point curled his hands like claws and said, "I've been killing for seven years," told Kileen after 2 1/2 hours of questioning, that he "could that he 'could have killed' Mrs. Bernice Worden, 58, whose headless body was strung up by the heels in a lean-to on Gein's farm.

But Gein added, "I can't remember."

Kileen said a search of Gein's litter-strewn home turned up "five more skulls," hidden in boxes. In

Pump Millions of Gallons of Water Into Reservoirs

Millions of gallons of water were being pumped into the Harrisburg standby reservoirs this morning, pumping operations starting at 8 a. m., Superintendent Amos Doom has announced.

Following the heavy rains of last week all pumps, with a capacity of 18,250 gallons of water per minute, were in operation for 38 hours, raising the level of both reservoirs by 18 inches, Doom stated. He also said that, at the time pumping was started, the reservoirs had more water than at any time he could remember at this time of the year.

The creek was running so high this morning that water was overflowing into the barrow pits and it is possible the pits will be filled from the overflow.

Two Arrested At Carrier Mills

Two Carrier Mills men were arrested in Carrier Mills Sunday afternoon and charged with driving while intoxicated.

At 1:30 p. m. State Trooper Adolph Sweat arrested Kenneth Parks after his car figured in a head-on collision on East Washington street with a car driven by Mrs. Marie Hill. Sweat brought Parks to the county jail.

Parks suffered a broken nose and a bruised face, and Mrs. Hill chest and facial injuries in the crash. Her son, Allen Horton, suffered minor injuries. Both cars were total losses.

Sheriff William T. Barrett and Sheriff Deputy Everett N. Sneed at 2 p. m. arrested R. J. Johnson, who was driving on East Railroad street in Carrier Mills, and brought Johnson to the county jail.

Seek $25,000 for Injuries to Girl

Nancy Edward, 7, in a lawsuit filed in her behalf by her mother, Mrs. Dorothy Oglesby, seeks $25,000 damages for injuries received in an incident in uptown Harrisburg May 14, 1957.

The complaint, filed for them by Atty. DeWitt Twente, names Wayne Johnson the defendant. It says a car driven by Johnson struck the girl on North Main street.

Worden said he then went out and returned to find the store spattered with blood and both his mother and the cash register missing.

Deer hunters later reported seeing Gein driving Mrs. Worden's pickup truck. He was arrested at the home of a neighboring farmer.

Authorities said a trail of blood led them to a shed attached to the Gein farmhouse where they found Mrs. Worden's badly mutilated body hanging by the heels.

Tornadoes Hit South; Snow In Plains Area

Five Persons Killed By Twisters; Colorado, Wyoming Blanketed

By United Press

An onslaught of tornadoes raked the Gulf region late Sunday, killing five persons, and the worst snowstorm of the year swept out of the Rockies into the Great Plains.

The weather violence in Dixie began when a flurry of twisters dipped out of a line of severe thunderstorms in Alabama, Mississippi and Texas. Most of the twisters hit rural areas.

A couple and their 14-year-old daughter were killed when a tornado exploded their home "in a puff of smoke" near Jasper, Ala., and an elderly couple was killed by a twister near Macon, Miss.

Weathermen warned of possible flash floods today along small rivers in eastern Tennessee as the squall line pushed eastward.

A weekend snowstorm that buried parts of Colorado and Wyoming under 4 to 18 inches of snow spread today across an area from the Texas Panhandle to northern Wisconsin.

Durango, in southwestern Colorado, got an 18-inch snow blanket during the weekend, and a 14-inch snowfall blocked South Pass in central Wyoming. All mountain pass highways in Colorado were snowpacked and snow slides at Red Mountain Pass in the southwestern section made travel hazardous.

The snow accumulation during Sunday night ranged from three to six inches across Nebraska and northwest Kansas. The swirling storm, which at times cut visibility to one-half mile, was blamed for at least two traffic fatalities.

Elder P. A. Hill, Former Area Minister, Dies

Elder P. A. Hill, retired Baptist minister who was well known throughout this area, died in Holden hospital, Carbondale, Saturday at 9 p. m., following a long illness.

Elder Hill, 78, had made his home with a son, Morse Hill of Carrier Mills, and a daughter, Mrs. Jess (Mary) Pankey of Carbondale, since the death of his wife in 1948.

He was formerly pastor of the Carrier Mills Baptist church, Harco Baptist church, Ledford Baptist church and others, and also served as missionary in this area. He was a student of Baptist activities and had a book published on the Early History of the Baptist Church.

Several brothers and sisters preceded him in death, with his last brother, Lee Hill, dying two weeks ago.

There are four children surviving: two sons, Morse P. Hill of Carrier Mills and Paul Hill, Peoria, and two daughters, Mrs. Jess (Mary) Pankey, Carbondale, and Mrs. Herman (Margaret) Bolerjack, Elgin.

The body lies in state at the Brayfield funeral home, Sesser. Funeral services, conducted by Rev. W. D. Berry and Rev. Ernest Ammon, will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at Horse Prairie church, near Sesser, with burial in the church cemetery.

Oppenheimer Return Urged

Aircraft Firm Rushes Plans to Fire Intercontinental Missile

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Martin Company rushed today to complete arrangements for firing the Titan intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM), second of America's 5,000-mile rockets.

The Baltimore aircraft firm set up a new division to speed "on-the-spot" arrangements in Cape Canaveral, Fla., for launching the Air Force Titan, now under development.

The company named G. T. Willey, vice president in charge of manufacturing, to take over immediately as boss of the new division. He will supervise all Martin activities in the Patrick Air Force Base-Cape Canaveral area, including testing of the Matador tactical missile.

Willey also was given orders to speed arrangements for the launching of the Navy Vanguard earth satellite. The Vanguard rocket with a test satellite aboard, has been scheduled for firing next month.

The Martin announcement indicates the United States is getting closer to the first launching of the Titan. The other American ICBM being developed, the Atlas, has been test fired twice — both times unsuccessfully.

Meanwhile, Trevor Gardner, former Air Force research chief, recommended that the Eisenhower administration consider bringing Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer back into federal service to help on the missile-satellite program.

Oppenheimer, who directed the first atomic bomb project, was denied access to government secrets in 1954 after he was termed a security risk.

Gardner said the United States is two to three years behind Russia in missile progress and has "a full scale national emergency on its hands." He said Oppenheimer has "one of the finest minds in the world" and should be put to work on the rocket-satellite program.

Murder Trial to Begin Jan. 27

CARMI, Ill. (AP) — The twice-delayed murder trial of a mother and her daughter in the strange death of a Hartford, Conn., girl is scheduled to begin Jan. 27th in White County Circuit Court at Carmi.

Circuit Judge Roy Gulley set the trial date for Mrs. June Davis and her daughter, Betty, of Cave-In-Rock, Ill. They are under indictment in the death of Betty June Joiner, 19, on July 1, 1955. Miss Joiner was a former Cave-In-Rock resident.

Authorities said Miss Joiner was being driven to Elizabethtown by Glenn McDowell of Cave-In-Rock, a former high school friend and the fiancé of Miss Davis.

Mrs. Davis and her daughter flagged McDowell's car and scuffled with Miss Joiner. She collapsed and was run over by a passing car.

The case was first scheduled for trial May 14, 1956, but was delayed by a defense challenge of the array of jurors. Last December, a mistrial was declared when a judge said it was impossible to select a jury in Hardin County. Only eight jurors had been accepted of 271 questioned.

The judge also allowed a defense motion for a change of venue to White County.

Ex-Presidential Candidate Also To Meet with Ike

Favors Closer Partnership With NATO Allies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles laid before Adlai E. Stevenson today the administration's ideas for strengthening the West's defenses in the face of Russia's missile advances.

Dulles called in the two-time Democratic presidential candidate for consultation as part of a bipartisan approach to the question of how to bolster the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Stevenson told newsmen as he entered the State Department that he will try to be "helpful to the extent that I can agree" with Dulles' plans.

He refused to say whether he had any specific proposals of his own.

He said he would like to help bring about not only a closer military alliance but a "closer political association through NATO" and help "rebuild mutual confidence between the United States and our Allies."

"Genuine partnership means more than pooling our military and scientific resources," he said.

Consider Several Moves

President Eisenhower also has invited Stevenson to confer with him before the mid-December NATO "summit" meeting. The former Illinois governor said he had no idea just when that White House conference will take place.

The White House has scheduled a meeting with congressional leaders on the same subject Dec. 3. It was believed likely that the President would prefer to talk with Stevenson before that meeting.

The administration was understood to be considering these moves to convert West Europe's defenses to the age of nuclear rockets.

A possible bid by Eisenhower at the Paris meeting for permission to base U. S. 1,500-mile range missiles at NATO bases ringing Russia. Defense Secretary Neil H. BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Let us be glad and rejoice. Rev. 19:7.

The Bible mentions several hundred reasons for us to rejoice, but it comes very far from exhausting all the reasons we have to rejoice. A blocked blood vessel of the eye partly impaired our vision for a short time, but we have enjoyed good vision for more than eighty years, but never thought to rejoice on that account.

Call to Action

Editorial — BY BRUCE BOSSART

The urgent tone which seemed to be lacking in America's initial responses to recent major Soviet missile-satellite gains has now been supplied by President Eisenhower. But setting the proper mood for the hard job ahead is clearly only a beginning.

Wide approval has been voiced of his appointment of Dr. James R. Killian Jr., president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, to coordinate and speed the country's scientific defense program, with particular stress on long-range missiles.

But the proof will be in the pudding, in the evidence yet to be had that the United States has in fact made critical advance in missiles and satellites and thus has closed the dangerous gap opened by the Soviet Union.

In many ways Mr. Eisenhower showed his deep concern for what Russia has done and his recognition that this demands of all of us, from the top down, a new spirit of effort and dedication if we are to preserve the free way of life.

The President hit the proper point when he said Soviet launchings of earth satellites were most significant because of what they implied as to Russia's capabilities in rocket propulsion.

Perhaps he would have done well also to mention Soviet claims of having successfully dispatched and put on target a long-range ballistic missile. Whether or not we accept the validity of this claim, we need to take open note of it. Too often we have underrated Soviet capacity to achieve advances of great import.

In his speech Mr. Eisenhower wisely sought to extend reassurance to all free peoples that despite Soviet gains we still retain for ourselves a devastating capacity to inflict nuclear ruin on any potential enemy.

The President recited many major defense developments in his catalogue of reassurance, but put especial weight on our nuclear strength. He said scientists tell him we still are well ahead in both quality and quantity of weapons.

And he added we have the planes to deliver this nuclear force against crucial centers of resistance anywhere on earth.

Some may feel that in offering this comfort the President opened the way for a return in America to the complacency which plagued us before Sputnik I began circling the globe.

But on balance what Mr. Eisenhower told Americans and their friends abroad suggested we know now, if we did not before, that any further dalliance on our part could be fatal to freedom everywhere.

His call for action on all fronts, for stern new effort to meet the changed world, deserves the full-hearted response of all who prize liberty.

"We Can't Let Anything Stand in the Way of Progress"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Postmaster General Delays Stamp Commemorating Satellite Until U. S. A. Has One; Other Problems Beside Satellite Move Slowly In White House; Senate's No. 1 Humorist Comes From New Hampshire.

WASHINGTON. — Arthur Summerfield is a pioneering postmaster general when it comes to painting mailboxes red, white and blue; but he is very cautious regarding Sputnik. He is just not going to print a new stamp commemorating the International Geophysical Year until the U. S. A. hoists a Sputnik of its own into the skies.

Summerfield has already decided that the United States will honor the geophysical year with a commemorative postage stamp. However, he's going to wait until the very last day of the year—even until Dec. 31, 1958 if necessary—before issuing the stamp. Of course, if a real live American Sputnik gets over the horizon before that day, then the stamp will be forthcoming.

Reason for the sagacious Summerfield's caution is that the design proposed for the geophysical year's stamp would include the official IGY emblem. This emblem shows a satellite orbiting through space around a globe.

The Russians had not made an announcement on their satellite plan when the IGY symbol was adopted; so world scientists, enchanted with the promised U. S. contribution to the "year," placed the American satellite on the design of the emblem.

However, since the U. S. A. hasn't produced, the postage stamp using public would view this as the Sputnik, not our would-be satellite. So Summerfield, taking no chances, will wait. He doesn't want to be accused of honoring Russia's achievement.

However, one nation, Japan, has already issued a postage stamp showing the IGY emblem and the would-be American satellite. It was issued July 10, 1957. Other countries have also been issuing stamps showing their contributions to the IGY program.

MOLASSES-MOVING WHITE HOUSE

A lot of people are asking: "Why the bog-down on the missile-satellite program?" Part of the answer goes to general molasses-motion inside the White House. This bog-down a lot of problems. Here are some illustrations:

Civil Rights Commission — This was ballyhooed by the White House time and time again, beginning with the President's state of the union message in January. Or July 16 Ike urged: "I hope that Senate action on this measure will be accomplished at this session without undue delay." At that time a "civil rights bill" was certain to pass, and Ike could have begun considering commissioners to administer it. But the delayed Not until November, more than two months after the bill was passed, did the President act.

Foreign Aid—No issue before Congress got more attention from Eisenhower than foreign aid. He especially urged a "development loan fund" to lend money abroad. He got his loan fund from Congress—after going on television to appeal to the people. But now, three months after winning the battle, he still has not appointed a "fund manager" to administer the money he said was so essential.

Education—Beginning four years ago, the President publicly urged aid for education. Privately he gave Congress no help to pass aid to education. Scores of phone calls went to Congress to block Hell's Canyon and to block the Patman probe of high interest rates and Eisenhower fiscal policies. But not one to help secure aid for our schools, which are beginning to lag behind Russia.

The delay on missiles and satellites involved some other factors, but the so-called "tranquilizing" mood inside the White House was one reason for the bog-down.

NEW HAMPSHIRE HUMORIST Greatest humorist in Congress. In a quaint, quaint, New England way, is Sen. Norris Cotton of New Hampshire. Here is a cross-section of his Coolidgeesque observations written to the folks back home:

"This Congress is both a hare and a tortoise—mostly tortoise. . . . 'We must go' back to work. In my next letter I'll come down off the mountain top and report to you from the trenches. . . ."

"As a boy, was amazed and impressed by a lecture on the internal mechanism of the dairy cow. I regarded bossy with a new respect, a complex machine—a milk factory on legs. She has four stomachs—one true stomach, three for storage. In one day she can cram 150 pounds of wet grass into her compartments. Then she retires to a shady place, regurgitates it in small amounts, chews it thoroughly, and digests it in her 'true stomach.' Congress should be equipped with the same kind of apparatus. . . . 'The Department of Agriculture will hire three additional mycologists but will keep the same number of zymologists and cyto-pathologists. I am not sure what these are, but here's something I know about—the same department plans to spend $125,000 to increase production of castor oil in this country.' . . ."

"This week Texas and Arizona senators slipped a joker into an appropriation bill to make the government buy protein meals (for cattle) and give them to their section as drought relief. . . . Yet since 1934, a food stamp bill to use some of our surplus in giving a proper diet to undernourished people hasn't been permitted to reach the floor. This solicitude for animals over humans is curious, isn't it? Reminds me of the first letter Henry Ward Beecher ever wrote—at the age of 5.

"Der Sister, We are al well Ma haz a baby The old sow has six pigs."

It will be held at the Recreation Building of the St. Mary's Catholic church in Herrin.

Warren Engle, Carbondale, general campaign chairman for the council, reported that this would be the first such meeting ever held by the local council. "This was made possible because of the fine cooperation of all of the communities which joined in the first State-wide coordinated campaign for Scouting," he said.

All campaign workers will be honored at the meeting for their campaign efforts and will receive certificate of appreciation. United Fund leaders will also be honored by the council. President Ralph Bedwell, Carbondale, will outline the Council plans for Scouting development in the area for 1958. This will give the campaign work-

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H. At your druggist. Money back guarantee.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE C. L. MCCORMICK, right, Vienna, discusses the impact of the Shawnee National Forest on southeastern Illinois counties with two fellow members of a new permanent Illinois Legislative Commission to Study County Problems, which held a public hearing in Marion Nov. 14. With Representative McCormick are State Representative Edward C. Eberspacher, left, Shelbyville; and Commission Chairman A. B. McConnell, Woodstock, also a state representative. Commission members visited a Shawnee National Forest district ranger station near Elizabethtown during a pre-hearing tour of the southeastern counties Nov. 13 which ended with a dinner meeting at Southern Illinois University with representatives of the SIU Government Department. FOUR FORMER college presidents comprise this quartet of Southern Illinois University staff members. The unusual coincidence finds all four serving in teaching or administrative posts under Southern's current president, Delyte W. Morris. They are, with institutions formerly headed in parentheses: Dr. Robert G. Buzzard, visiting professor of geography (Eastern Illinois University); Dr. Frances Horn, visiting professor of secondary education (Pratt Institute); Dr. George Hand, vice president in charge of business affairs (Fairmont, V. Va., State College); and Dr. Carlyle Ring, director of the East St. Louis Residence Center (Jamestown College, New York). (SIU Photo Service)

Wunderlich, Clarke Inducted Into Metropolitan Veterans Organization

Two men, who began their careers with the Metropolitan Life Insurance company on the same day of the same year, Nov. 15, 1937, were honored guests at a banquet given by the Mt. Vernon, Illinois District at the Benton Country club Friday evening, Nov. 15. The occasion was the induction of the two men, J. Fred Wunderlich of Harrisburg and Cedric L. Clarke of Mt. Vernon, formerly of Harrisburg, into the ranks of Metropolitan Veterans. All employees of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company who have had twenty years of continuous service with their company become members of the Veterans organization. Over 1,000 employees are now such Veterans.

The induction ceremony was given by the immediate past president of Southern Illinois Veterans Chapter 35, Delmar H. Hiller of Harrisburg, who presented the two men with their Veteran's pins and plaques of membership, and advised them of their privileges and responsibilities as members. Seated at the head table were James N. Henneberry, manager of the Mt. Vernon district, and Mrs. Henneberry, Stanton H. Pearce and Mrs. Pearce of Centerville and Edgar B. Dickey and Mrs. Dickey of Carmi, Mr. and Mrs. Clarke and Mr. and Mrs. Wunderlich. Mr. Pearce and Mr. Dickey had attained veteran status earlier in 1957.

Following the induction ceremony Manager Henneberry presented to each of the four men a set of cuff links and tie bar and lovely corsages to the four ladies. A Samsonite two-suiter bag was the gift to Mr. Clarke from the management team, and he was also presented with a gift from his associates of the Mt. Vernon office.

Delmar H. Hiller, who is in charge of the Harrisburg office of Metropolitan and who has been associated with Mr. Wunderlich in this office for 19 of his 20 years of service, presented to him as a memento of his veteran's dual fountain pen desk set inscribed "1937-1957", and also gave personal gifts to Mr. and Mrs. Wunderlich to show his high esteem for them and the enjoyable association during the nineteen years.

After the banquet games were enjoyed by the fifty-two people who had gathered to celebrate this occasion.

Girard's Wife Prays at Shrine

CAMP DREW, Japan (UP)—Petite Haru Candy Sueyama Girard knelt before a Shinto shrine today and prayed that the Maebashi court would show mercy toward her husband, SSC William S. Girard.

The 29-year-old wife of 22-year-old Girard expressed bitterness toward Kayoko Sakai, 18, daughter of Mrs. Naka Sakai whom Girard killed Jan. 30 on the U. S. Camp Weir firing range.

She said Miss Sakai is "out to get" Girard.

The verdict in the manslaughter case against Girard will come between 8 p. m. and 9 p. m. c.s.t. today.

"I think that Shigemitsu Akane gakubo Socialist Diet member from the Maebashi district must have been coaching her on what and what not to say," Candy said.

"Me and Bill are both very sorry that this happened. I would like to go out to Mrs. Sakai's grave and pray if the Sakai family would let me."

Candy, who lives near the gate to this U. S. Army installation, prayed at the Shinto altar in her small room and then entered the base to spend the verdict eve with her husband. Girard has been restricted to base pending outcome of the case.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (E.N.)—According to a report heard over WQXR, the radio station of the New York Times, the Consul General of Monaco reports "the Grace Kelly wedding stamps are completely sold out."—However, these stamps may be obtained from the Elmont Stamp Co.

Because the wedding set has evoked a lively interest in stamps of Monaco, Elmont's Paris Office has prepared a collection containing the Grace Kelly set of five, the Prince Rainier enthronement set of six stamps, the Bosio art set and the large sized diamond Olympic set; a total of 22 mint stamps for just $1.00 to introduce Elmont's approval service.

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear husband and father, Alvin Thompson, who passed away eight years ago Nov 18, 1949;

In memory we see him now,

Yet, know he is away.

'Tis lonely here without him,

But we'll meet again some day

We listen for his voice, now still,

The steps we hear no more.

His gentle words and loving smiles

Are memories we keep in store,

When we shall lay our burdens down,

And tolling here is o'er,

We will go to meet our loving one,
On Heaven's golden shore.

Sadly missed by wife and children. *120-1

Oil Refinery Worker Killed In Robinson Blast

ROBINSON, Ill. (UP) — One oil refinery worker was killed and another seriously injured here when an exploding steam turbine sent shrapnel-like pieces of steel flying 50 feet.

Cecil Beabout, 30, Robinson, was killed when he was struck in the back of the head by a piece of steel, and William Adams, 32, Robinson, was injured seriously when struck in the face.

A coroner's jury said the deaths were accidental and were caused by the mechanical failure of an emergency steam turbine at the Ohio Oil Co. refinery Saturday night.

Walter Meese, 49, Robinson, escaped injury.

It was the first operational fatality at the plant since 1938.

Jefferson County Judge Vacancy In Governor's Lap

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (UP) — The problem of what to do about a county judge vacancy in Jefferson County was dumped in the lap of Gov. Stratton today.

County Clerk Lester F. Davis said he was notifying the governor by registered, special delivery letter of the resignation Saturday of Judge Dale Andrews.

Andrews' ouster had been sought by Mayor Virgil Bailey on grounds that Andrews no longer lived in the county.

Officials said Andrews had moved to Evansville, Ind., but had returned to Mount Vernon to hold court on Saturdays. When he was unable to return, he paid Hamilton County Judge Charles Jones to hold court for him. Andrews continued to maintain an apartment in Mount Vernon.

Special primary and general elections to fill the vacancy appeared likely since Andrews' term had more than a year to run.

Davis estimated the special and general elections will cost more than $16,000.

Andrews said in his letter of resignation Saturday "I have decided it is not worth the time and effort or the embarrassment to my family to continue in my present capacity."

A Democrat, Andrews was elected three years ago.

SPECIAL PREACHING

There will be special preaching services at The Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Harrisburg, Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

Apostle D. T. Williams, from the church headquarters in Independence, Mo., will conduct the services and everyone is invited to come and worship with the group at 10 East O'Gara street.

Check Federal Law On Harper

A look at the stub revealed he had listed a sum of $22,000 "to buy place" and had dated the stub Nov. 8.

Arrested Saturday

DeBose told Lane that he and his wife were getting ready to move to Missouri and that he told Harper he would like to pay before he left. He said Harper wrote him out a check for $50 and told him to go to Equality and take care of the bill. That was the way the grocer got the check.

Harper was arrested in uptown Harrisburg Saturday morning by city police and was taken to the city hall for questioning.

Lane said Harper told him he had written four or five bad checks here, that he also had written some in Missouri before coming here.

Harper said his automobile broke down near Muddy Nov. 9, that he came into Harrisburg to have a new motor put in the vehicle at the Rude Motor Co. He said at the garage he owned a large tavern in St. Louis, that he was in this area on a "spar mine deal."

Friday he went to the Harrisburg National bank to attempt to deposit a $700 check on an Overland bank, because, he said, he planned to be in the area for a while and wanted a checking account there.

The bank said it would accept the check on the condition that no checks could be written on the account until the $700 check had cleared from Overland.

Harper refused to deposit the check on the bank's terms and left with it.

When arrested Harper had in his billfold a check for $162.35 made out to the Rude garage, and the $700 check and another for $500, both made out to the Harrisburg National bank and dated Nov. 15, all on the Overland bank. He also had about $150 in cash. The Rude garage had refused the check made out to it Saturday morning and had called police, who found Harper a short time later uptown.

Harper told Lane that he paid for a car with a bad check in Arkansas in 1953 and drove the machine to Missouri. He said he was convicted of a federal charge because of this incident and served in Leavenworth until April of this year, when he was released on parole.

Fined

Martell Mason of Galatia was fined $150 and costs Sunday when arraigned before Justice of the Peace O. L. Woods on a charge of drunken driving. His companion was fined for drunkenness. The two were arrested Saturday night by State Troopers James Fowler, George Adams and Walter Lowe.

Bearded Farm Worker Hustled From TV Stage

NEW YORK (UP) — A bearded farm worker sneaked in front of a television camera on a nationwide quiz program Sunday night. Before he was off stage he presented to an established audience of 45 million people the first words of his "message to the American people."

While contestant Norman Fruman was answering an $8,000 question and a studio official said "everyone was too busy to see him," Richard Fichter, 34, of Springfield, Pa., stepped on stage and began to read from his 300-word, typewritten speech on CBS' $61,000 Challenge.

"Dear Americans, the Russians have gotten a step ahead of you and you are trying to catch up," Fichter began.

Emcee Ralph Story recovered from his surprise and grabbed Fichter's arm. He turned Fichter over to a studio aide, who ushered him off stage.

The farm worker told network official Julia Shorwell he could not "sleep two nights ago and got up and wrote a message to the American people about godlessness." His message said Americans were "frustrated" because Russia was "ahead scientifically and were 'frantically blaming first this one and then that one.'"

Fichter, who got into the studio on a regular ticket after being thrown out of afternoon rehearsals, was taken to Bellevue Hospital for observation.

Wife of President of U. I. Trustees Dies

CHICAGO (UP) — Mrs. Elizabeth M. Livingston, 45, wife of the president of the University of Illinois Board of Trustees, died Saturday at the University of Illinois Hospital in Chicago.

Services for Mrs. Livingston will be held Wednesday afternoon at LaGrange.

Mrs. Livingston's survivors include her husband, Park Livingston, three sons, Barry, David and Thomas, and a daughter, Linda.

16 Illinois Traffic Deaths

By United Press

A young couple and a Mommence youth were killed in a head-on collision Saturday on Ill. 1 a mile north of Beecher.

Other accidents brought the Illinois traffic weekend fatality count to at least 16.

Clifford Johnson and his wife, Arlene, of Steger, a Chicago suburb, were killed in the Beecher smashup. Both were 20 years old. The other victim of the crash was Russell Stanfield, 18, Mommence.

Royalton to Hold Town Meeting in Quest for Doctor

ROYALTON, Ill. (UP) — Most of the 1,500 citizens of Royalton are expected to turn out for a town meeting tonight in their quest for a doctor for the community.

The town has been without a doctor since the death of W. R. Tweedy last month. Tweedy, who was 77, had been its only doctor for 52 years.

Village Clerk Ted Kozer said citizens will decide tonight in a meeting at the high school auditorium whether they will build offices for a doctor if one can be obtained.

"We hope to complete plans pledge cards and a door-to-door fund canvass," he said.

The town has contacted four medical schools and a placement center in seeking applicants for the job.

"We have one prospect, but he is in service and won't be out until next July. We really need a doctor before then," Kozer said.

Library Observes Book Week

Mrs. Mary Jane Rice, librarian, is announcing the observance of book week by the Mitchell-Carnegie public library of Harrisburg.

"It is a true saying that, any book you have not read is a new book," says Mrs. Rice.

Book Week this year with its provocative slogan, "Explore With Books," suggests a world of adventure for young readers. The new books reflect the changing and growing interests of present day young people and provide an ever widening horizon of experience. Whether it is American history or foreign backgrounds, vacation adventures or school romances, biography or current events, spring flowers or solar energy, there is a new book for everyone. Explore for books and in books.

Youngest children will want some beginning readers that are prepared to meet their reading needs and introduce them to the adventure of reading by themselves. Picture books are lands of adventure for the youngest. Their excellent illustrations and new techniques make these books interesting to art students and adults also.

Dulles Consults with Stevenson on Defense

mediate missiles, utilizing bases close to Russia.

—Providing more information on atomic weapons development techniques to the NATO Allies, and working toward a general pooling of all types of scientific information among the Allies.

An agreement with NATO nations for storing atomic warheads and bombs under U. S. control in Western Europe and their quick release to the Allies in event of war.

—Establishing a missile training school and firing range somewhere in southern Europe for educating key allied military personnel in rocket warfare.

Military, Political Unity

—Broadening the NATO council by including discussion of non NATO affairs to achieve better foreign policy coordination and avoid in advance such disputes as last year's Suez crisis and the U. S.-British-French row over furnishing arms to Tunisia.

—Making a start toward persuading each NATO nation to specialize in the military field best suited to it. Under this plan, each nation would not try to maintain its own separate army, navy and air force at full-strength but would rely on NATO's overall-balanced forces.

Stevenson said on his arrival here Sunday that NATO nations must cooperate not only in military matters, but also on the political front and renew efforts to reach a disarmament agreement with Russia.

"The measure of the emergency is not merely military," he said.

"Simply a great effort in scientific and research and missile development," he said, "is not a sufficient response to the challenge which is now apparent."

War One Hero Faces Tax Claim Of $85,000

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UP) — World War 1 hero Alvin C. York, in ill health and "broke cash wise," goes to court today to face an $85,000 federal tax claim.

The government claims that amount should have been paid on proceeds from the successful movie "Sergeant York," made in 1940. The 69-year-old sergeant says he doesn't owe this sum and certainly doesn't have the money to pay it.

York lives on a pension of $60 a month and says his only asset is the 400-acre farm he was given after his return from war. He had a stroke in 1954 and has been confined to a wheelchair since.

A fellow Tennessean, Democrat Sen. Estes Kefauver, has gone to bat for the sergeant but nothing has come of his efforts as yet. The legislator said in his opinion profit from the movie should have been subject to capital gains tax rather than income tax.

Kefauver suggested to the Internal Revenue Service that "something could be worked out along the same lines President Eisenhower got tax relief from proceeds of his book 'Crusade in Europe.'"

The sergeant won a Congressional Medal of Honor for killing 25 Germans and taking 132 prisoners, almost single-handedly, in 1918. After the war he went back to Pall Mall, Tenn., and except for publicity received when the movie was released has been rarely in the news.

Sound-on-film movies were perfected at the University of Illinois and first demonstrated there in 1921.

Ask $8,700 Damages In Court Complaint

Richard Davis and Lillian Davis seek a total of $8,700 damages from Thomas Jones in a lawsuit filed by Atty. Harry L. McCabe and Atty. Trafton Dennis in circuit court.

The complaint arises from a collision on U. S. Route 45 a mile north of Eldorado at 9 p. m. Nov. 17, 1955.

Mrs. Davis, riding in an auto driven by her husband, asks $8,700 for injuries and Mr. Davis asks $700 for auto damage.

Eldorado to Open Cage Season In New Gymnasium Tuesday Night

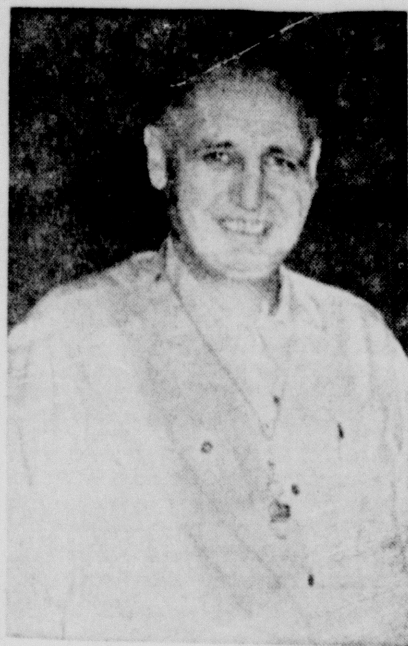

Will Face Marion; Only One Varsity Letterman Back

There is only one varsity letterman among the Eldorado high school basketball candidates that have been working out under the direction of Coach Al Adams, preparing for the season's opener Tuesday night.

Eldorado opens the 1957-58 season against the Marion Wildcats, for years and years a southern Illinois cage power.

Leonard Willis is the lone varsity member from last year's squad back for another year of action. So Adams will have to dig into last season's reserves and freshman-sophomore group.

The big, modern gymnasium, under construction for more than a year, is now ready and will be the site of Tuesday's game at Eldorado. The dressing rooms were ready a couple of weeks before the close of the football season and with the exception of completing the electrical work on the huge scoreboard, plus a few other minor details, the gym was completed late last week.

4,500 Seating Capacity
Fourteen candidates for the varsity have been busy converting from grid to cage competition—Seniors Leonard Willis, Paul Hines, Fred Pool, Lester Feunquay and Jim Woods;

Juniors: Jackie Fowler, Mike McMahon, Tom Baugher, Larry Miller, Jay Flanders and Ira Wheeler, who transferred to Eldorado before the beginning of the school term from Lyerla, Ga., where he had played two years of basketball;

Sophomores: Kent Robinson, Dwight Laffoon and Jack Muckley. Eldorado's gym, just east of the football field, has a seating capacity of about 4,500 and a standing-room-only capacity of about 1,000 additional.

The score board contains a feature that is brand new in these parts—in fact it is said there are only two others in use in Illinois high schools.

In addition to the usual lights to indicate the players in action and fouls committed, there are also lights to show the number of points scored by each player.

Bowl Construction
The gym is of bowl construction, with fans entering on a level with the top row of seats. There are three rows of folding-type chairs, two at playing floor level and one at the top. The usual bleacher-type seats complete the seating arrangements.

Entrance to the gym is from the east. Fans will find a large lobby and concession stand just inside the glass door entrances. Inside the gym proper there is another concession stand, press box and reserved section for the band, all on the west side.

For the past several years the ETHS gym has been referred to as a "cracker box." Those days are past.

Pistons Lead Western Division

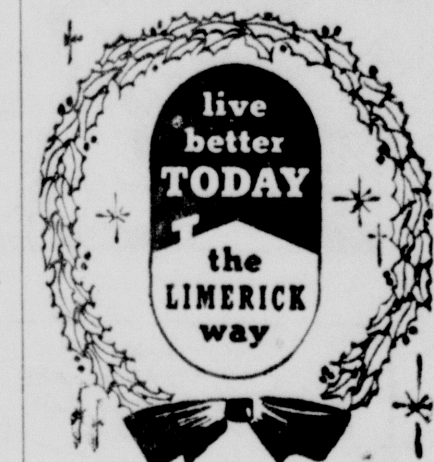

By United Press

Along with a change in home sites, the Detroit Pistons got a good personnel shake-up during the off-season and today they are leading the Western Division of the National Basketball Association.

The former Fort Wayne team took undisputed possession of the top spot Sunday night by 21 percentage points when they downed the Philadelphia Warriors, 95-91. The St. Louis Hawks, who had been tied for first but have played more games slipped mathematically behind despite a 98-97 victory over Cincinnati.

In the only other Sunday game, the Syracuse Nationals rallied to beat the Minneapolis Lakers, 110-98.

Buckeyes Wrap Up Third Big Ten Title, Second Rose Bowl Trip in Three Years

CHICAGO (AP) — Ohio State today wrapped up its third Big Ten football championship in four years, prepared for its second Rose Bowl trip within that span and made a strong bid for top national ranking.

The Buckeyes accomplished their triple objective with one football victory, a 17-13 triumph over favored Iowa Saturday. The victory was the sixth straight in the conference for Coach Woody Hayes' ground-hugging Bucks and left them with only an early season surprise loss to Texas Christian to mar an otherwise perfect record.

The Iowa triumph nailed down the third football crown since 1954 for Ohio State. The Buckeyes also finished first in 1955.

Ohio State's strongest foe for the top national ranking is Michigan State, a powerhouse whose 42-13 victory over Minnesota Saturday went for naught toward Rose Bowl honors when Ohio State won.

The Spartans wound up in second place with a 5-1 record in league play with only non-conference loss to Kansas State left to play.

The Buckeyes, who must meet Michigan next Saturday before closing the season, outgained and outchased the Iowans in the closing minutes of the battle. Bob White, a sophomore halfback, starred in the winning attack, carrying seven times for 64 yards in a fourth period drive that produced the winning touchdown.

The Spartans' victory over Minnesota was not effortless. Walt Kowalezy, Michigan State's candidate for All-America honors, scored two touchdowns.

In other Big Ten action, Michigan won its third conference victory by tagging Indiana with its seventh loss of the season, 27-13. The game marked the first time the Hoosiers were able to score more than one touchdown against a conference rival.

Wisconsin improved its chances for a first division finish by beating Illinois, 24-13, with Minnesota still remaining on the Badger schedule.

An alert Purdue secondary intercepted two passes that ended in touchdowns and the offense added two last period tallies to down Northwestern, 27-0. The victory was the third against three losses for the Boilermakers with

Six H-Bombers Demonstrate Striking Power

PLATTSBURG AIR FORCE BASE, N. Y. (AP) — Six potential H-bombers Sunday demonstrated sweeping U. S. air striking power by making a 10,525-mile non-stop flight in less than a day.

Refueling in air, the big B-52 jet bombers flew from Homestead Air Force Base, Fla., to Buenos Aires, Argentina, and back to this Strategic Air Command base in less than 22 hours.

The planes left Homestead at 5:50 a. m. e. s. t. Saturday and swooped over Buenos Aires in observance of Argentina's Aviation Week at 2:44 p. m. The first plane flew over Plattsburg at 3:32 a. m. on the return trip.

Flight Commander Brig. Gen. William K. Martin said the jet bombers averaged more than 500 miles an hour for the 21 hour and 42 minute flight. "There wasn't a hitch," he said.

The Air Force said there was no attempt to set either a speed or distance record. However, the flight was viewed as a demonstration of the global air striking power of the Air Force recently stressed by President Eisenhower and other leaders in the wake of Russia's missile and satellite advances.

Only last week Vice Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Curtis E. LeMay completed a record roundtrip flight between the United States

Mail Early for Christmas Plea By Postmaster

Predicting that the Christmas mail this year will set an all time record, even exceeding the mail handled here in 1956, Postmaster A. M. Hetherington announced his 1957 "Mail Early For Christmas" campaign today.

With Christmas only a little more than a month away, the Postmaster reminds "It's later than you think!" Most folks have a tendency to wait until December rolls around before they give their Christmas mailing plans a thought!

The Postmaster further suggested that right now is the time to take the following steps: Check your Christmas card lists very carefully—make sure that each address includes the full name, street and number, city, zone and state.

He said, also, that it is a good idea to stock up on heavy wrapping paper, sturdy corrugated cartons, strong cord, and paper adhesive tape for use in securely packing and wrapping your Christmas gifts. If you'd like to include your Christmas card or letter inside your gift package, just add the appropriate First Class mail postage to the postage for the package itself; thus, insuring simultaneous arrival of your gift and greeting.

To help you plan your early Christmas mailing, the Postmaster suggested that you secure from the Post Office Pamphlet No. 2, which tells all about Packaging and Wrapping Parcels for Mailing, and Pamphlet No. 3, giving full details on Domestic Postage Rates and Fees. Be sure to stock up on plenty of stamps at the same time.

Also, ask for free labels reading "All For Local Delivery" and "All For Out of Town Delivery," so that you can speed arrival of your Christmas cards by sorting and tying them in two separate bundles with the addresses all facing one way.

Keep in mind that only Christmas cards carrying First Class three cent, or six cent Air Mail postage, may include a personal

Returns from Kroger-Awarded Trip to Florida

Bill B. McIlrath, meat cutter for the local Kroger store, has returned from a vacation spent at Key Largo, Fla. He was in a group of ten men selected from the Carbondale branch which extends into Indiana, Kentucky and Missouri.

They flew from St. Louis to Miami by Eastern Airlines and were transported in convertibles 60 miles to the Ocean Reef club and Yacht Harbor on Key Largo.

Mr. McIlrath reported ideal fishing conditions with about 50 varieties of game and table fish in Key Largo waters, with sailfish, white and blue marlin offshore offering unparalleled sport.

Fishing boats from Miami were used by the group for deep-sea fishing. A sailfish six and a half feet long was caught by one of the party. It is being mounted and will be shipped back for a souvenir.

message. Nothing more than a signature is authorized on cards mailed at the two cent Third Class rate; and, be sure your return address is on every Christmas card envelope—this is socially correct, and helps both you and your friends to keep your mailing lists up-to-date.

The Postmaster says he is completing advance preparations to handle the Christmas rush with extra mail clerks, carriers, and expanded facilities all around. So, now, it is really up to you!

It's important to plan your Christmas mailings so that those Christmas cards and gifts for most distant points are mailed first. Try to get all of your out-of-town cards and gifts into the Post Office before December 10th, and those for nearby points should be mailed by December 15th. Be sure to separate the out of town mail from your local mail.

Check Federal Law About Harper

Charges Will Be Issued Here For Bad Checks

Police Chief Tells Of Activity of Missouri Man

Chief of Police Ross Lane said today he would contact federal authorities regarding the arrest here Saturday of William Thomas Harper, 33, of Overland, Mo., who admitted to city police he wrote a number of bad checks in Harrisburg late Friday.

Lane said if federal authorities did not want him, that charges of writing fraudulent checks would be issued in Saline county. Harper, who had been transferred to the county from the city jail, told police he was released on parole from Leavenworth federal penitentiary in April of this year.

Saturday morning police reported that Harper had written checks on the Harrisburg National bank late Friday and cashed one for $60 at the Fashion Palace, one for $16 at the Brokerage, one for $35 at Winkelman's Jewelry store and one for $25 at Kroger's. Later, police said one was reported cashed at the C. F. Gidcomb furniture store.

Cashed Checks at Eldorado

Chief Lane reported this morning that Harper also had operated in Eldorado, cashing checks there for $150 and $100 the week before.

L. J. Woolard of Eldorado told Harrisburg police he had co-endorsed a check for $100 with Harper so that Harper could cash a check at an Eldorado bank. He told local police that Harper took his auto to the H garage on Route 142 in Eldorado and had $55 worth of work done on the car and paid for the job, tipping $10. Then he got one of the garage owners to co-endorse a $150 check, which was cashed at the bank.

One other check popped up this morning. The owner of an Equality grocery store, whose name was not released, was said to be going to Shawneetown today to file charges against Harper for a $50 check.

Chief Lane said a resident east of Harrisburg named De Bosc told him Sunday that Harper had made the acquaintance of him and his family since he came Nov. 9 and offered him the job of managing a farm he had just bought in southeast Missouri. He showed the man a check stub "to prove it."

Admits Butcher Slaying

Find Ten Human Skulls

PLAINFIELD, Wis. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Earl Kileen announced today that recuse farmer Ed Gein, in whose home 10 human skulls were found, made a "partial admission" to the butcher slaying of a woman storekeeper.

Gein, who at one point curled his hands like claws and said, "I've been killing for seven years," told Kileen after 2 1/2 hours of questioning, that he "could that he 'could have killed' Mrs. Bernice Worden, 58, whose headless body was strung up by the heels in a lean-to on Gein's farm.

But Gein added, "I can't remember."

Kileen said a search of Gein's litter-strewn home turned up "five more skulls," hidden in boxes. In cluding the head of Mrs. Worden Kileen said that "10 skulls now have been found."

"It appears to be a case of cannibalism," Kileen said.

A human heart was found in a pot on the stove in Gein's kitchen.

Gein was taken from the county jail at Vautoma shortly before noon under heavy guard. Authorities indicated he would be taken to a place where he claimed he dug up the skulls from graves.

Meanwhile state crime laboratory technicians swarmed through the white frame farm house where Gein has lived alone since the death of his mother years ago.

Amid a clutter of crime magazines, old newspapers and bundles of his mother's clothing, investigators hoped to dig out clues to the identity of the skulls and bones found in the litter.

Gein, a hollow-eyed, round-shouldered bachelor of 51 was led from the county jail by state policeman, Kileen, Sheriff Arthur Schley, and County Judge Boyd Clark.

Gein covered his face with hands clad in bright red gloves as he left the jail and plodded through heavy snow to a waiting car. He wore faded green trousers, cap and a jacket.

He was to be arraigned today on an undefined felony charge pending further investigation.

Authorities said they found in the house belts which appeared to have been made of human skin. A human heart was in a pot on the kitchen stove

Pump Millions of Gallons of Water Into Reservoirs

Millions of gallons of water were being pumped into the Harrisburg standby reservoirs this morning, pumping operations starting at 8 a. m., Superintendent Amos Doom has announced.

Following the heavy rains of last week all pumps, with a capacity of 18,250 gallons of water per minute, were in operation for 38 hours, raising the level of both reservoirs by 18 inches, Doom stated. He also said that, at the time pumping was started, the reservoirs had more water than at any time he could remember at this time of the year.

The creek was running so high this morning that water was overflowing into the barrow pits and it is possible the pits will be filled from the overflow.

Two Arrested At Carrier Mills

Two Carrier Mills men were arrested in Carrier Mills Sunday afternoon and charged with driving while intoxicated.

At 1:30 p. m. State Trooper Adolph Sweat arrested Kenneth Parks after his car figured in a head-on collision on East Washington street with a car driven by Mrs. Marie Hill. Sweat brought Parks to the county jail.

Parks suffered a broken nose and a bruised face, and Mrs. Hill chest and facial injuries in the crash. Her son, Allen Horton, suffered minor injuries. Both cars were total losses.

Sheriff William T. Barrett and Chief Deputy Everett N. Sneed at 2 p. m. arrested R. J. Johnson, who was driving on East Railroad street in Carrier Mills, and brought Johnson to the county jail.

Seek $25,000 for Injuries to Girl

Nancy Edward, 7, in a lawsuit filed in her behalf by her mother, Mrs. Dorothy Oglesby, seeks $25,000 damages for injuries received in an incident in uptown Harrisburg May 14, 1957.

The complaint, filed for them by Atty. DeWitt Twente, names Wayne Johnson the defendant. It says a car driven by Johnson struck the girl on North Main street.

Tornadoes Hit South; Snow In Plains Area

Five Persons Killed By Twisters; Colorado, Wyoming Blanketed

By United Press

An onslaught of tornadoes raked the Gulf region late Sunday, killing five persons, and the worst snowstorm of the year swept out of the Rockies into the Great Plains.

The weather violence in Dixie began when a flurry of twisters dipped out of a line of severe thunderstorms in Alabama, Mississippi and Texas. Most of the twisters hit rural areas.

A couple and their 14-year-old daughter were killed when a tornado exploded their home "in a puff of smoke" near Jasper, Ala., and an elderly couple was killed by a twister near Macon, Miss.

Weathermen warned of possible flash floods today along small rivers in eastern Tennessee as the squall line pushed eastward.

A weekend snowstorm that buried parts of Colorado and Wyoming under 14 to 18 inches of snow spread today across an area from the Texas Panhandle to northern Wisconsin.

Durango, in southwestern Colorado, got an 18-inch snow blanket during the weekend, and a 14-inch snowfall blocked South Pass in central Wyoming. All mountain pass highways in Colorado were snowpacked and snow slides at Red Mountain Pass in the southwestern section made travel hazardous.

The snow accumulation during Sunday night ranged from three to six inches across Nebraska and northwest Kansas. The swirling storm, which at times cut visibility to one-half mile, was blamed for at least two traffic fatalities.

Elder P. A. Hill, Former Area Minister, Dies

Elder P. A. Hill, retired Baptist minister who was well known throughout this area, died in Holden hospital, Carbondale, Saturday at 9 p. m., following a long illness.

Elder Hill, 78, had made his home with a son, Morse Hill of Carrier Mills, and a daughter, Mrs. Jess (Mary) Pankey of Carbondale, since the death of his wife in 1948.

He was formerly pastor of the Carrier Mills Baptist church, Harco Baptist church, Leford Baptist church and others, and also served as missionary in this area. He was a student of Baptist activities and had a book published on the Early History of the Baptist Church.

Several brothers and sisters preceded him in death, with his last brother, Lee Hill, dying two weeks ago.

There are four children surviving: two sons, Morse P. Hill of Carrier Mills and Paul Hill, Peoria, and two daughters, Mrs. Jess (Mary) Pankey, Carbondale, and Mrs. Herman (Margaret) Bolerjack, Elgin.

The body lies in state at the Brayfield funeral home, Sesser. Funeral services, conducted by Rev. W. D. Berry and Rev. Ernest Ammon, will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at Horse Prairie church, near Sesser, with burial in the church cemetery.

James Chambers, Benton, Ky., brother of the flyer, came to Harrisburg Sunday to drive him to Belleville, where they visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Chambers, before the lieutenant flew back to Texas.

Oppenheimer Return Urged

Aircraft Firm Rushes Plans to Fire Intercontinental Missile

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Martin Company rushed today to complete arrangements for firing the Titan intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM), second of America's 5,000-mile rockets.

The Baltimore aircraft firm set up a new division to speed "on-the-spot" arrangements in Cape Canaveral, Fla., for launching the Air Force Titan, now under development.

The company named G. T. Willey, vice president in charge of manufacturing, to take over immediately as boss of the new division. He will supervise all Martin activities in the Patrick Air Force Base-Cape Canaveral area, including testing of the Matador tactical missile.

Willey also was given orders to speed arrangements for the launching of the Navy Vanguard earth satellite. The Vanguard rocket with a test satellite aboard, has been scheduled for firing next month.

The Martin announcement indicates the United States is getting closer to the first launching of the Titan. The other American ICBM being developed, the Atlas, has been test fired twice — both times unsuccessfully.

Meanwhile, Trevor Gardner, former Air Force research chief, recommended that the Eisenhower administration consider bringing Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer back into federal service to help on the missile-satellite program.

Oppenheimer, who directed the first atomic bomb project, was denied access to government secrets in 1954 after he was termed a security risk.

Gardner said the United States is two to three years behind Russia in missile progress and has "a full scale national emergency on its hands." He said Oppenheimer has "one of the finest minds in the world" and should be put to work on the rocket-satellite program.

Murder Trial to Begin Jan. 27

CARMI, Ill. (AP) — The twice-delayed murder trial of a mother and her daughter in the strange death of a Hartford, Conn., girl is scheduled to begin Jan. 27th in White County Circuit Court at Carmi.

Circuit Judge Roy Gulley set the trial date for Mrs. June Davis and her daughter, Betty, of Cave-In-Rock, Ill. They are under indictment in the death of Betty June Joiner, 19, on July 1, 1955. Miss Joiner was a former Cave-In-Rock resident.

Authorities said Miss Joiner was being driven to Elizabethtown by Glenn McDowell of Cave-In-Rock, a former high school friend and the fiancee of Miss Davis.

Mrs. Davis and her daughter flagged McDowell's car and scuffled with Miss Joiner. She collapsed and was run over by a passing car.

The case was first scheduled for trial May 14, 1956, but was delayed by a defense challenge of the array of jurors. Last December, a mistrial was declared when a judge said it was impossible to select a jury in Hardin County. Only eight jurors had been accepted of 271 questioned.

The judge also allowed a defense motion for a change of venue to White County.

Ex-Presidential Candidate Also To Meet with Ike

Favors Closer Partnership With NATO Allies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles laid before Adlai E. Stevenson today the administration's ideas for strengthening the West's defenses in the face of Russia's missile advances.

Dulles called in the two-time Democratic presidential candidate for consultation as part of a bipartisan approach to the question of how to bolster the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Stevenson told newsmen as he entered the State Department that he will try to be "helpful to the extent that I can agree" with Dulles' plans.

He refused to say whether he had any specific proposals of his own.

He said he would like to help bring about not only a closer military alliance but a "closer political association through NATO" and help "rebuild mutual confidence between the United States and our Allies."

"Genuine partnership means more than pooling our military and scientific resources," he said.

President Eisenhower also has invited Stevenson to confer with him before the mid-December NATO "summit" meeting. The former Illinois governor said he had no idea just when that White House conference will take place.

The White House has scheduled a meeting with congressional leaders on the same subject Dec. 3. It was believed likely that the President would prefer to talk with Stevenson before that meeting.

The administration was understood to be considering these moves to convert West Europe's defenses to the age of nuclear rockets.

—A possible bid by Eisenhower at the Paris meeting for permission to base U. S. 1,500-mile range missiles at NATO bases ringing Russia. Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy said last week that the United States, recognizing Russia's lead in 5,000-mile intercontinental missiles, would place emphasis on the shorter-range inter-

Girard's Wife Prays at Shrine

CAMP DREW, Japan (UP) — Petite Haru Candy Sueyama Girard knelt before a Shinto shrine today and prayed that the Maebashi court would show mercy toward her husband, SSG William S. Girard.

The 29-year-old wife of 22-year-old Girard expressed bitterness toward Kayoko Sakai, 18, daughter of Mrs. Naka Sakai whom Girard killed Jan. 30 on the U. S. Camp Weir firing range.

She said Miss Sakai is "out to get" Girard.

The verdict in the manslaughter case against Girard will come between 8 p. m. and 9 p. m. c.s.t. today.

"I think that Shigemitsu Akane gakubo Socialist Diet member from the Maebashi district must have been coaching her on what and what not to say," Candy said.

"Me and Bill are both very sorry that this happened. I would like to go out to Mrs. Sakai's grave and pray if the Sakai family would let me."

Candy, who lives near the gate to this U. S. Army installation, prayed at the Shinto altar in her small room and then entered the base to spend the verdict eve with her husband. Girard has been restricted to base pending outcome of the case.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY
Let us be glad and rejoice. Rev. 19:7.

The Bible mentions several hundred reasons for us to rejoice, but it comes very far from exhausting all the reasons we have to rejoice. A blocked blood vessel of the eye partly impaired our vision for a short time, but we have enjoyed good vision for more than eighty years, but never thought to rejoice on that account.

Call to Action

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

The urgent tone which seemed to be lacking in America's initial responses to recent major Soviet missile-satellite gains has now been supplied by President Eisenhower. But setting the proper mood for the hard job ahead is clearly only a beginning.

Wide approval has been voiced of his appointment of Dr. James R. Killian Jr., president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, to coordinate and speed the country's scientific defense program, with particular stress on long-range missiles.

But the proof will be in the pudding, in the evidence yet to be had that the United States has in fact made critical advance in missiles and satellites and thus has closed the dangerous gap opened by the Soviet Union.

In many ways Mr. Eisenhower showed his deep concern for what Russia has done and his recognition that this demands of all of us, from the top down, a new spirit of effort and dedication if we are to preserve the free way of life.

The President hit the proper point when he said Soviet launchings of earth satellites were most significant because of what they implied as to Russia's capabilities in rocket propulsion.

Perhaps he would have done well also to mention Soviet claims of having successfully dispatched and put on target a long-range ballistic missile. Whether or not we accept the validity of this claim, we need to take open note of it. Too often we have under-rated Soviet capacity to achieve advances of "great import."

In his speech Mr. Eisenhower wisely sought to extend reassurance to all free peoples that despite Soviet gains we still retain for ourselves a devastating capacity to inflict nuclear ruin on any potential enemy.

The President recited many major defense developments in his catalogue of reassurance, but put especial weight on our nuclear strength. He said scientists tell him we still are well ahead in both quality and quantity of weapons.

And he added we have the planes to deliver this nuclear force against crucial centers of resistance anywhere on earth.

Some may feel that in offering this comfort the President opened the way for a return in America to the complacency which plagued us before Sputnik I began circling the globe.

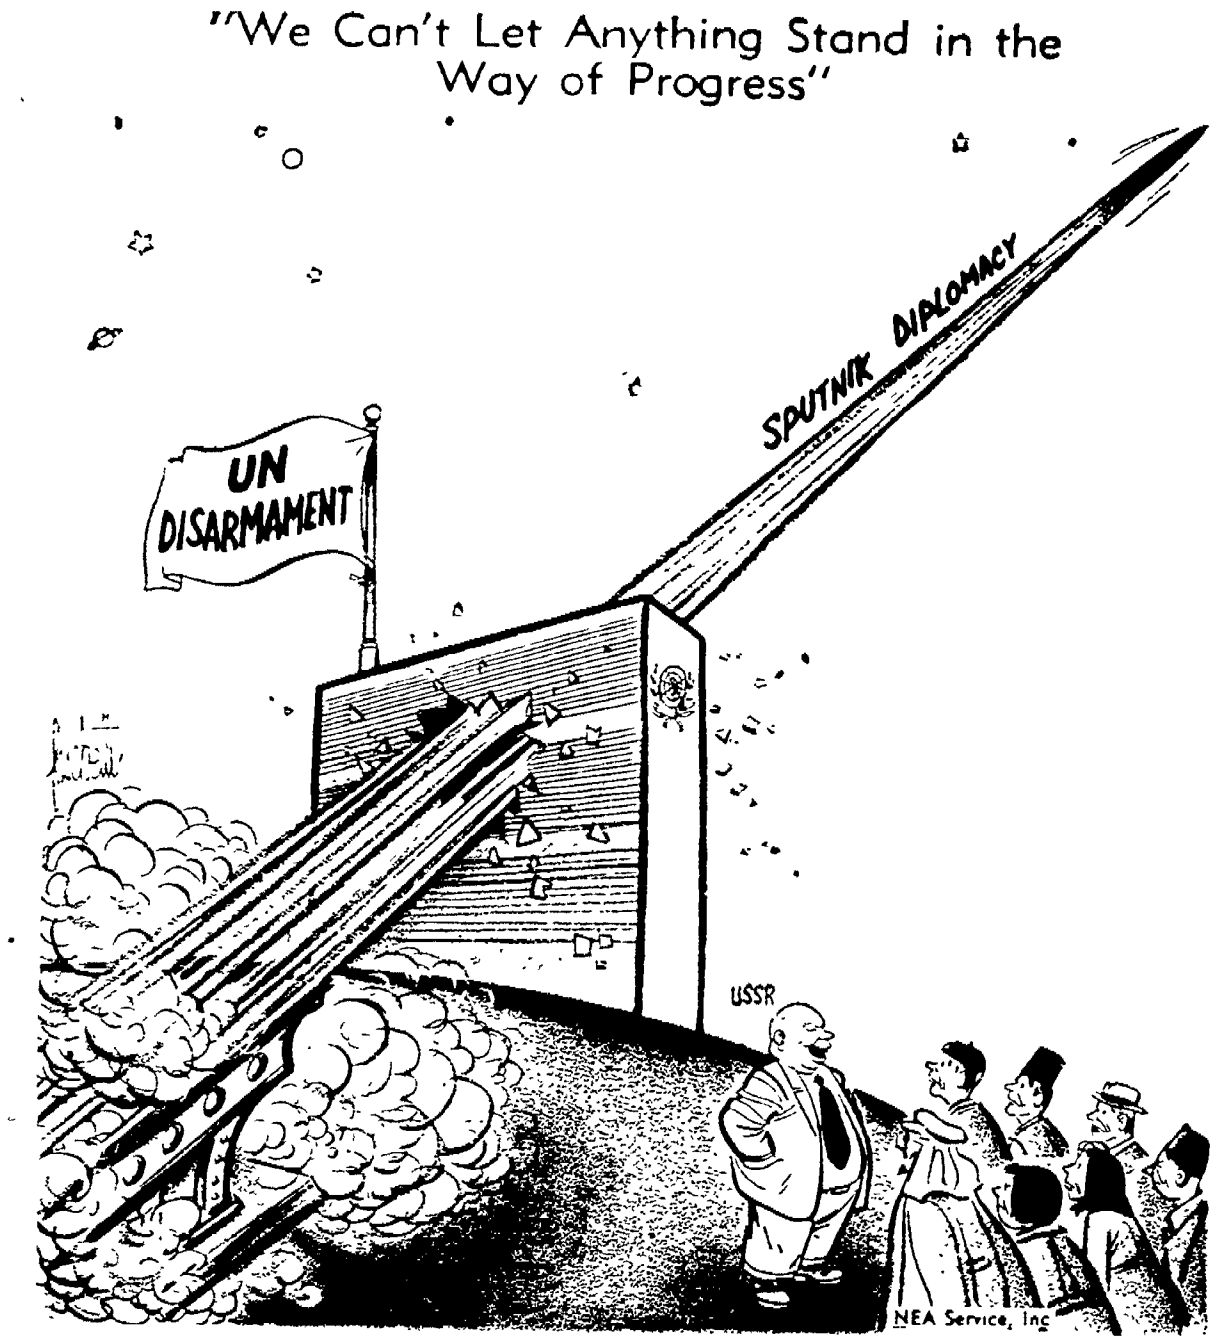

But on balance what Mr. Eisenhower told Americans and their friends abroad suggested we know now, if we did not before, that any further dalliance on our part could be fatal to freedom everywhere.

His call for action on all fronts, for stern new effort to meet the changed world, deserves the full hearted response of all who prize liberty.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round
By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Postmaster General Delays Stamp Commemorating Satellite Until U. S. A. Has One; Other Problems Beside Satellite Move Slowly In White House; Senate's No. 1 Humorous Comes From New Hampshire.

WASHINGTON. — Arthur Summerfield is a pioneering postmaster general when it comes to painting mailboxes red, white and blue; but he is very cautious regarding Sputnik. He is just not going to print a new stamp commemorating the International Geophysical Year until the U. S. A. hoists a Sputnik of its own into the skies.

Summerfield has already decided that the United States will honor the geophysical year with a commemorative postage stamp. However, he's going to wait until the very last day of the year—even until Dec. 31, 1958 if necessary—before issuing the stamp. Of course, if a real live American Sputnik gets over the horizon before that day, then the stamp will be forthcoming.

Reason for the sagacious Summerfield's caution is that the design proposed for the geophysical year's stamp would include the official IGY emblem. This emblem shows a satellite orbiting through space around a globe.

The Russians had not made an announcement on their satellite plan when the IGY symbol was adopted; so world scientists, enchanted with the promised U. S. contribution to the "year," placed the American satellite on the design of the emblem.

However, since the U. S. A. hasn't produced, the postage stamp-using public would view this as the Sputnik, not our would-be satellite. So Summerfield, taking no chances, will wait. He doesn't want to be accused of honoring Russia's achievement.

However, one nation, Japan, has already issued a postage stamp showing the IGY emblem and the would-be American satellite. It was issued July 10, 1957. Other countries have also been issuing stamps showing their contributions to the IGY program.

MOLASSES-MOVING WHITE HOUSE
A lot of people are asking: "Why the bog-down on the missile-satellite program?" Part of the answer goes to general molasses-motion inside the White House. This boggs down a lot of problems. Here are some illustrations:

Civil Rights Commission — This was ballyhooed by the White House time and time again, beginning with the President's state of the union message in January. Or July 16 Ike urged: "I hope that Senate action on this measure will be accomplished at this session without undue delay." At that time a civil rights bill was certain to pass, and Ike could have begun considering commissioners to administer it. But the delayed Not until November, more than two months after the bill was passed, did the President act.

Foreign Aid—No issue before Congress got more attention from Eisenhower than foreign aid. He especially urged a "development loan fund" to lend money abroad. He got his loan fund from Congress—after going on television to appeal to the people. But now, three months after winning the battle, he still has not appointed a "fund manager" to administer the money he said was so essential.

Education—Beginning four years ago, the President publicly urged aid for education. Privately he gave Congress no help to pass aid to education. Scores of phone calls went to Congress to block Hell's Canyon and to block the Patman probe of high interest rates and Eisenhower fiscal policies. But not one to help secure aid for our schools, which are beginning to lag behind Russia.

The delay on missiles and satellites involved some other factors, but the so-called "tranquillizing" mood inside the White House was one reason for the bog-down.

NEW HAMPSHIRE HUMORIST
Greatest humorist in Congress. In a quaint, quaint, New England way, is Sen. Norris Cotton of New Hampshire. Here is a cross-section of his Coolidgeesque observations written to the folks back home:

"This Congress is both a hare and a tortoise—mostly tortoise. . . . 'We must go' back to work. In my next letter I'll come down off the mountain top and report to you from the trenches." . . .

"As a boy, was was amazed and impressed by a lecture on the internal mechanism of the dairy cow. I regarded bossy with a new respect, a complex machine—a milk factory on legs. She has four stomachs—one true stomach, three for storage. In one day she can cram 150 pounds of wet grass into her compartments. Then she retires to a shady place, regurgitates it in small amounts, chews it thoroughly, and digests it in her 'true stomach.' Congress should be equipped with the same kind of apparatus." . . . "The Department of Agriculture will hire three additional mycologists but will keep the same number of zymologists and cyto-pathologists. I am not sure what these are, but here's something I know about—the same department plans to spend $125,000 to increase production of castor oil in this country." . . .

"This week Texas and Arizona senators slipped a joker into an appropriation bill to make the government buy protein meals (for cattle) and give them to their section as drought relief. . . . Yet since 1934, a food stamp bill to use some of our surplus in giving a proper diet to undernourished people hasn't been permitted to reach the floor. This solicitude for animals over human is curious, isn't it? Reminds me of the first letter Henry Ward Beecher ever wrote—at the age of 5.

"Der Sister,
We are al well
Ma haz a baby
The old sow has six pigs."

Boy Scout Fund Drive Victory Meeting Nov. 25

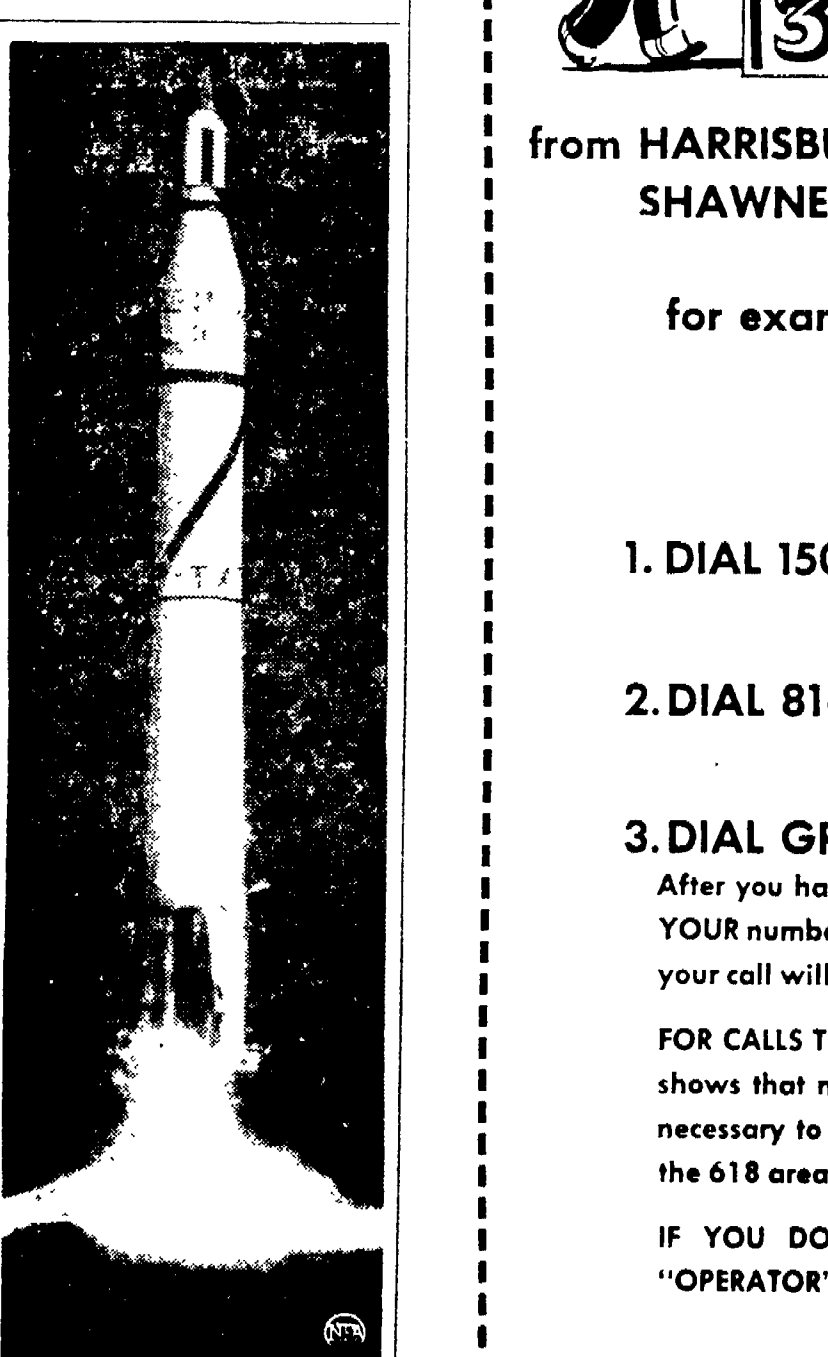

A victory meeting for the current finance campaign of the Egyptian Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be held on Monday, Nov. 25, according to Bob Rushing, finance campaign chairman for Harrisburg. This will be a council wide dinner meeting for all campaign workers, council and district leaders and their wives. It will be held at the Recreation Building of the St. Mary's Catholic church in Herrin.

Warren Engle, Carbondale, general campaign chairman for the council, reported that this would be the first such meeting ever held by the local council. "This was made possible because of the fine cooperation of all of the communities which joined in the first State-wide coordinated campaign for Scouting," he said.

All campaign workers will be honored at the meeting for their campaign efforts and will receive certificate of appreciation. United Fund leaders will also be honored by the council. President Ralph Bedwell, Carbondale, will outline the Council plans for Scouting development in the area for 1958. This will give the campaign work-

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H® At your druggist. Money back guarantee. *Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

XXXX
Sarah felt as though she had been beaten with sticks. She had dreaded lying awake; she fell in to a profound sleep the moment her head was on the pillow. At 10 minutes of three she woke up.
Everything was quiet. There was no sound anywhere except, far away, the mournful bleat of the foghorn at Highland Light. It had turned colder. She reached for the blanket at the foot of the bed —and left it where it was. Two people were talking somewhere, their voices were a low continuous murmur. It was, it must be,
Tom and Lisa Hall...

Sarah got out of bed. She had only the clothes in which she had come. She threw her polo coat over her slip and opened her door carefully. The hall was as black as pitch. Tom and Lisa were in the studio; the door was closed but there was a line of light under it. Sarah moved over the floor in her bare feet, feeling her way.

Inside the studio Lisa was talking softly, "—and I was terrified Tom, absolutely terrified. Your face, the way you sat there staring at me..."
Tom said: "I didn't know what you were going to say. I hadn't the slightest idea..."
"What else could I say, darling?
That Inspector's terribly keen... and Sarah Casement can see thru a pane of glass as well as the next person... I'll tell you something else about her, Tom. She's jealous of me—yes, she is, you're a man and you wouldn't notice, but she is... No, we're not out of the woods yet, we'll have to be awfully careful. Think of what would happen... Everything ruined, everything..."

"Lisa, stop it. Don't worry about Sarah; you don't need to. If the worst comes to the worst I can handle her..."
Lisa said, "Maybe you're right,
Tom. I hope so... It's so hard to have to pretend all the time.
I think I'll go to bed, I think I can sleep now." There was movement inside the studio; Sarah retreated through blackness to her door, closed it soundlessly.

The night died slowly. Dawn came, and then the sun. Snatches of broken sleep after that; she got up at almost nine.

They breakfasted leisurely, sat around smoking cigarettes and drinking more coffee. There was plenty of time. Tom had called the airport. The 1:30 flight from Provincetown connected with a New York plane at Boston. Sarah washed the dishes and tidied up the kitchen while Lisa got ready to go. Tom was doing something to the car. They joined him outside. "No, I won't go in to the airport with you people, Carlotta will think I've deserted her completely. It's a gorgeous morning
—I spurn your car, Tom, I'm going

"Call Carney if she comes. I'll keep in touch with him. She's got to be found." He clapped on his hat and started for the door.

Not found by you, Sarah thought, and leaped down on the grass and ran.

She had no way of knowing in which direction Tom was moving.
Once again the immediate world was reduced to a few feet of space enclosed solidly in walls of gray vapor, a deeper gray now.

Then she thought of the stone house. She could telephone to the Inspector from there without having to explain why she wanted to get away at once to Carlotta and Steven.

Oil Refinery Worker Killed In Robinson Blast

ROBINSON, Ill. (CP) — One oil refinery worker was killed and another seriously injured here when an exploding steam turbine sent shrapnel-like pieces of steel flying 50 feet.

Cecil Beabout, 30, Robinson, was killed when he was struck in the back of the head by a piece of steel, and William Adams, 32, Robinson, was injured seriously when struck in the face.

A coroner's jury said the deaths were accidental and were caused by the mechanical failure of an emergency steam turbine at the Ohio Oil Co. refinery Saturday night.

Walter Meese, 49, Robinson, escaped injury. It was the first operational fatality at the plant since 1938.

Jefferson County Judge Vacancy In Governor's Lap

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (AP) — The problem of what to do about a county judge vacancy in Jefferson County was dumped in the lap of Gov. Stratton today.

County Clerk Lester F. Davis said he was notifying the governor by registered, special delivery letter of the resignation Saturday of Judge Dale Andrews.

Andrews' ouster had been sought by Mayor Virgil Bailey on grounds that Andrews no longer lived in the county.

Officials said Andrews had moved to Evansville, Ind., but had returned to Mount Vernon to hold court on Saturdays. When he was unable to return, he paid Hamilton County Judge Charles Jones to hold court for him. Andrews continued to maintain an apartment in Mount Vernon.

Special primary and general elections to fill the vacancy appeared likely since Andrews' term had more than a year to run. Davis estimated the special and general elections will cost more than $16,000.

Andrews said in his letter of resignation Saturday "I have decided it is not worth the time and effort or the embarrassment to my family to continue in my present capacity."

A Democrat, Andrews was elected three years ago.

Check Federal Law On Harper

A look at the stub revealed he had listed a sum of $22,000 "to buy place" and had dated the stub Nov. 8.

Arrested Saturday
DeBose told Lane that he and his wife were getting ready to move to Missouri and that he told Harper he owed a grocery bill at Equality he would like to pay before he left. He said Harper wrote him out a check for $50 and told him to go to Equality and take care of the bill. That was the way the grocer got the check.

Harper was arrested in uptown Harrisburg Saturday morning by city police and was taken to the city hall for questioning.

Lane said Harper told him he had written four or five bad checks here, that he also had written some in Missouri before coming here.

Harper said his automobile broke down near Muddy Nov. 9, that he came into Harrisburg to have a new motor put in the vehicle at the Rude Motor Co. He said at the garage he owned a large tavern in St. Louis, that he was in this area on a "spar mine deal."

Friday he went to the Harrisburg National bank to attempt to deposit a $700 check on an Overland bank, because, he said, he planned to be in the area for a while and wanted a checking account here.

The bank said it would accept the check on the condition that no checks could be written on the account until the $700 check had cleared from Overland.

Harper refused to deposit the check on the bank's terms and left with it.

When arrested Harper had in his billfold a check for $162.35 made out to the Rude garage, and the $700 check and another for $500, both made out to the Harrisburg National bank and dated Nov. 15, all on the Overland bank. He also had about $150 in cash. The Rude garage had refused the check made out to it Saturday morning and had called police, who found Harper a short time later uptown.

Harper told Lane that he paid for a car with a bad check in Arkansas in 1953 and drove the machine to Missouri. He said he was convicted of a federal charge because of this incident and served in Leavenworth until April of this year, when he was released on parole.

Fined

Martell Mason of Galatia was fined $150 and costs Sunday when arraigned before Justice of the Peace O. L. Woods on a charge of drunken driving. His companion was fined for drunkenness. The two were arrested Saturday night by State Troopers James Fowler, George Adams and Walter Lowe.

Bearded Farm Worker Hustled From TV Stage

NEW YORK (UP) — A bearded farm worker sneaked in front of a television camera on a nationwide quiz program Sunday night before he was off stage he presented to an established audience of 45 million people the first words of his "message to the American people."

While contestant Norman Fruman was answering an $8,000 question and a studio official said "everyone was too busy to see him," Richard Fichter, 34, of Springfield, Pa., stepped on stage and began to read from his 300 word, typewritten speech on CBS' $64,000 Challenge.

"Dear Americans, the Russians have gotten a step ahead of you and you are trying to catch up," Fichter began. Emcee Ralph Story recovered from his surprise and grabbed Fichter's arm. He turned Fichter over to a studio aide, who ushered him off stage.

The farm worker told network official Julia Shorwell he could not "sleep two nights ago and got up and wrote a message to the American people about godlessness." His message said Americans were "frustrated" because Russia was ahead scientifically and were "frantically blaming first this one and then that one." Fichter, who got into the studio on a regular ticket after being thrown out of afternoon rehearsals, was taken to Bellevue Hospital for observation.

Other accidents brought the Illinois traffic weekend fatality count to at least 16.

Royalton to Hold Town Meeting in Quest for Doctor

ROYALTON, Ill. (AP) — Most of the 1,500 citizens of Royalton are expected to turn out for a town meeting tonight in their quest for a doctor for the community.

The town has been without a doctor since the death of W. R. Tweedy last month. Tweedy, who was 77, had been its only doctor for 52 years.

Village Clerk Ted Kozar said citizens will decide tonight at a meeting at the high school auditorium whether they will build offices for doctor if one can be obtained.

"We hope to complete plans pledge cards and a door-to-door fund canvass," he said.

The town has contacted four medical schools and a placement center in seeking applicants for the job.

"We have one prospect, but he is in service and won't be out until next July. We really need a doctor before then," Kozar said.

Library Observes Book Week

Mrs. Mary Jane Rice, librarian, is announcing the observance of book week by the Mitchell-Carney public library of Harrisburg. "It is a true saying that, any book you have not read is a new book," says Mrs. Rice.

Book Week this year with its provocative slogan, "Explore With Books," suggests a world of adventure for young readers. The new books reflect the changing and growing interests of present day young people and provide an ever widening horizon of experience. Whether it is American history or foreign backgrounds, vacation adventure or school romances, biography or current events, spring flowers or solar energy, there is a new book for everyone. Explore for books and in books.

Youngest children will want some beginning readers that are prepared to meet their reading needs and introduce them to the adventure of reading by themselves. Picture books are lands of adventure for the youngest. Their excellent illustrations and new techniques make these books interesting to art students and adults also.

mediate missiles, utilizing bases close to Russia.

—Providing more information on atomic weapons development techniques to the NATO Allies, and working toward a general pooling of all types of scientific information among the Allies.

An agreement with NATO nations for storing atomic warheads and bombs under U. S. control in Western Europe and their quick release to the Allies in event of war.

—Establishing a missile training school and firing range somewhere in southern Europe for educating key allied military personnel in rocket warfare.

Military, Political Unity

—Broadening the NATO council by including discussion of non NATO affairs to achieve better foreign policy coordination and avoid in advance such disputes as last year's Suez crisis and the U. S.-British-French row over furnishing arms to Tunisia.

—Making a start toward persuading each NATO nation to specialize in the military field best suited to it. Under this plan, each nation would not try to maintain its own separate army, navy and air force at full-strength but would rely on NATO's overall-balanced forces.

Stevenson said on his arrival here Sunday that NATO nations must cooperate not only in military matters, but also on the political front and renew efforts to reach a disarmament agreement with Russia.

"The measure of the emergency is not merely military," he said.

"Simply a great effort in scientific and research and missile development," he said, "is not a sufficient response to the challenge which is now apparent."

War One Hero Faces Tax Claim Of $85,000

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UP) — World War 1 hero Alvin C. York, in ill health and "broke cash wise," goes to court today to face an $85,000 federal tax claim.

The government claims that amount should have been paid on proceeds from the successful movie "Sergeant York," made in 1940. The 69-year-old sergeant says he doesn't owe this sum and certainly doesn't have the money to pay it.

York lives on a pension of $60 a month and says his only asset is the 400-acre farm he was given after his return from war. He had a stroke in 1954 and has been confined to a wheelchair since.

A fellow Tennessean, Democrat, Sen. Estes Kefauver, has gone to bat for the sergeant but nothing has come of his efforts as yet. The legislator said in his opinion profit from the movie should have been subject to capital gains tax rather than income tax.

Kefauver suggested to the Internal Revenue Service that "something could be worked out along the same lines President Eisenhower got tax relief from proceeds of his book 'Crusade in Europe.'"

The sergeant won a Congressional Medal of Honor for killing 25 Germans and taking 132 prisoners, almost single-handedly, in 1918. After the war he went back to Pall Mall, Tenn., and except for publicity received when the movie was released has been rarely in the news.

Sound-on-film movies were perfected at the University of Illinois and first demonstrated there in 1921.

Ask $8,700 Damages In Court Complaint

Richard Davis and Lillian Davis seek a total of $8,700 damages from Thomas Jones in a lawsuit filed by Atty. Harry L. McCabe and Atty. Trafton Dennis in circuit court.

The complaint arises from a collision on U. S. Route 45 a mile north of Eldorado at 9 p.m. Nov. 17, 1955.

Mrs. Davis, riding in an auto driven by her husband, asks $8,000 for injuries and Mr. Davis asks $700 for auto damage.

Eldorado to Open Cage Season In New Gymnasium Tuesday Night

Will Face Marion; Only One Varsity Letterman Back

There is only one varsity letterman among the Eldorado high school basketball candidates that have been working out under the direction of Coach Al Adams, preparing for the season's opener Tuesday night.

Eldorado opens the 1957-58 season against the Marion Wildcats, for years and years a southern Illinois cage power.

Leonard Willis is the lone varsity member from last year's squad back for another year of action. So Adams will have to dig into last season's reserves and freshman-sophomore group.

The big, modern gymnasium, under construction for more than a year, is now ready and will be the site of Tuesday's game at Eldorado.

Coach Al Adams

The dressing rooms were ready a couple of weeks before the close of the football season and with the exception of completing the electrical work on the huge scoreboard, plus a few other minor details, the gym was completed late last week.

4,500 Seating Capacity

Fourteen candidates for the varsity have been busy converting from grid to cage competition—Seniors Leonard Willis, Paul Hines, Fred Pool, Lester Feuguay and Jim Woods;

Juniors: Jackie Fowler, Mike McMahon, Tom Baugher, Larry Miller, Jay Flanders and Ira Wheeler, who transferred to Eldorado before the beginning of the school term from Lyerla, Ga., where he had played two years of basketball;

Sophomores: Kent Robinson, Dwight Laffoon and Jack Muckley. Eldorado's gym, just east of the football field, has a seating capacity of about 4,500 and a standing-room only capacity of about 1,000 additional.

The score board contains a feature that is brand new in these parts—in fact it is said there are only two others in use in Illinois high schools.

In addition to the usual lights to indicate the players in action and fouls committed, there are also lights to show the number of points scored by each player.

Bowl Construction

The gym is of bowl construction, with fans entering on a level with the top row of seats. There are three rows of folding-type chairs, two at playing floor level and one at the top. The usual bleacher-type seats complete the seating arrangements.

Entrance to the gym is from the east. Fans will find a large lobby and concession stand just inside the glass door entrances. Inside the gym proper there is another concession stand, press box and reserved sector for the band, all on the west side.

For the past several years the ETHS gym has been referred to as a "cracker box." Those days are past.

Buckeyes Wrap Up Third Big Ten Title, Second Rose Bowl Trip in Three Years

CHICAGO (AP) — Ohio State today wrapped up its third Big Ten football championship in four years, prepared for its second Rose Bowl trip within that span and made a strong bid for top national ranking.

The Buckeyes accomplished their triple objective with one football victory, a 17-13 triumph over favored Iowa Saturday. The victory was the sixth straight in the conference for Coach Woody Hayes' ground-hugging Bucks and left them with only an early season surprise loss to Texas Christian to mar an otherwise perfect record.

The Iowa triumph nailed down the third football crown since 1954 for Ohio State. The Buckeyes also finished first in 1955.

Ohio State's strongest foe for the top national ranking is Michigan State, a powerhouse whose 42-13 victory over Minnesota Saturday went for naught toward Rose Bowl honors when Ohio State won.

The Spartans wound up in second place with a 5-1 record in league play with only non-conference foe Kansas State left to play.

The Buckeyes, who must meet Michigan next Saturday before closing the season, outloughed and outcharged the Hoosiers in the closing minutes of the battle. Bob White, a sophomore halfback, starred in the winning attack, carrying seven times for 64 yards in a fourth period drive that produced the winning touchdown.

The Spartans' victory over Minnesota was not effortless. Walt Kowalezy, Michigan State's candidate for All-America honors, scored two touchdowns.

In other Big Ten action, Michigan won its third conference victory by tagging Indiana with its seventh loss of the season, 27-13. The game marked the first time the Hoosiers were able to score more than one touchdown against a conference rival.

Wisconsin improved its chances for a first division finish by beating Illinois, 24-13, with Minnesota still remaining on the Badger schedule.

An alert Purdue secondary intercepted two passes that ended in touchdowns and the offense added two last period tallies to down Northwestern, 27-0. The victory was the third against three losses for the Boilermakers with

By United Press

Along with a change in home sites, the Detroit Pistons got a good personnel shake-up during the off season and today they are leading the Western Division of the National Basketball Association.

The former Fort Wayne team took undisputed possession of the top spot Sunday night by 21 percentage points when they downed the Philadelphia Warriors, 93-91. The St. Louis Hawks, who had been tied for first but have played more games slipped mathematically behind despite a 98-97 victory over Cincinnati.

In the only other Sunday game, the Syracuse Nationals rallied to beat the Minneapolis Lakers, 110-98.

National Race in Chaos After Oklahoma, Texas Aggies' Defeat

By United Press

The smoke of Saturday's surprises, like Notre Dame's streak-busting win over Oklahoma, cleared slowly from the college football scene today, leaving the bowl picture mighty clear but the national leadership race in chaos.

You can jot down these New Year's Day lineups.

Rose Bowl—Ohio State vs Oregon.

Orange Bowl—Oklahoma vs. probably Duke.

Cotton Bowl—Probably Texas A&M or Rice vs. Navy or Army.

Sugar Bowl—Probably Mississippi vs. Texas A&M or Rice.

And you can hail Ohio State as champion of the Big Ten for the third time in four years for its 17-13 win over Iowa, the Buckeyes coming from behind to win with a 67-yard drive in seven plays in the fourth quarter as soph Bob White lunged over from the five.

The Big Question

But who do you say is the national leader?

The Texas Aggies, who were No. 1, were handed a 7-6 defeat by Rice on the strength of King Hill's extra-point kick in the second period—a boot that snapped the Aggies' 14-game winning streak and gave Rice the inside track to the Southwest Conference title and Cotton Bowl bid.

But even that upset pales along side Notre Dame's 7-0 conquest of No. 2 ranked Oklahoma, smashing the Sooners' record winning streak of 47 games and their record streak of 123 games without being shut out.

Oklahoma's loss does not disturb its hold on a berth in the Orange Bowl. Duke probably qualified for the other berth with its 7-6 win over Clemson on Wray Carlton's catch of a TD pass and extra-point kick.

Oregon Assured Bowl Game

Oregon clinched the Pacific Coast Conference bowl bid by beating Southern Cal 16-7.

Mississippi's 14-7 win over Tennessee means Ole Miss must finish ahead of any other bowl-eligible team in the Southeastern Conference, and that should mean a Sugar Bowl berth. However, ineligible Auburn still is leading the league after its 6-0 win over Georgia and now is the nation's only major "powerhouse" perfect record team with a 8-0-0 record.

Two other league titles will be decided next Saturday. In the Ivy League, Dartmouth (5-0-1) and Princeton (5-1-0) will meet at Princeton for the crown.

In the Atlantic Coast Conference, Duke (5-0-1) winds up against North Carolina and North Carolina.

Mail Early for Christmas Plea By Postmaster

Predicting that the Christmas mail this year will set an all time record, even exceeding the mail handled here in 1956, Postmaster A. M. Hetherington announced his 1957 "Mail Early For Christmas" campaign today.

With Christmas only a little more than a month away, the Postmaster reminds "It's later than you think!" Most folks have a tendency to wait until December rolls around before they give their Christmas mailing plans a thought!

The Postmaster further suggested that right now is the time to take the following steps: Check your Christmas card lists very carefully—make sure that each address includes the full name, street and number, city, zone and state.

He said, also, that it is a good idea to stock up on heavy wrapping paper, sturdy corrugated cartons, strong cord, and paper adhesive tape for use in securely packing and wrapping your Christmas gifts. If you'd like to include your Christmas card or letter inside your gift package, just add the appropriate First Class mail postage to the postage for the package itself; thus, insuring simultaneous arrival of your gift and greeting.

To help you plan your early Christmas mailing, the Postmaster suggested that you secure from the Post Office Pamphlet No. 2, which tells all about Packaging and Wrapping Parcels for Mailing, and Pamphlet No. 3, giving full details on Domestic Postage Rates and Fees. Be sure to stock up on plenty of stamps at the same time.

Also, ask for free labels reading "All For Local Delivery" and "All For Out of Town Delivery," so that you can speed arrival of your Christmas cards by sorting and tying them in two separate bundles with the addresses all facing one way.

Keep in mind that only Christmas cards carrying First Class three cent, or six cent Air Mail postage, may include a personal message. Nothing more than a signature is authorized on cards mailed at the two cent Third Class rate; and be sure your return address is on every Christmas card envelope—this is socially correct, and helps both you and your friends to keep your mailing lists up-to-date.

The Postmaster says he is completing advance preparations to handle the Christmas rush with extra mail clerks, carriers, and expanded facilities all around. So, now, it is really up to you!

It's important to plan your Christmas mailings so that those Christmas cards and gifts from most distant points are mailed first. Try to get all of your out-of-town cards and gifts into the Post Office before December 10th, and those for nearby points should be mailed by December 15th. Be sure to separate the out of town mail from your local mail.

Six H-Bombers Demonstrate Striking Power

PLATTSBURG AIR FORCE BASE, N. Y. (AP) — Six potential H-bombers Sunday demonstrated sweeping U. S. air striking power by making a 10,525-mile non-stop flight in less than a day.

Refueling in air, the big B-52 jet bombers flew from Homestead Air Force Base, Fla., to Buenos Aires, Argentina, and back to this Strategic Air Command base in less than 22 hours.

The planes left Homestead at 5:50 a. m. e.s.t. Saturday and swooped over Buenos Aires in observance of Argentina's Aviation Week at 2:44 p. m. The first plane flew over Plattsburg at 3:32 a. m. on the return trip.

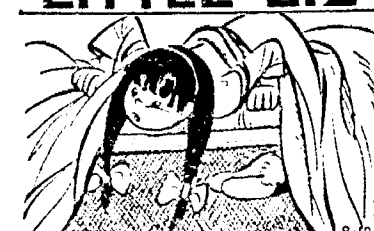

Flight Commander Brig. Gen. William K. Martin said the jet bombers averaged more than 500 miles an hour for the 21 hour and 42 minute flight. "There wasn't a hitch," he said.

The Air Force said there was no attempt to set either a speed or distance record. However, the flight was viewed as a demonstration of the global air striking power of the Air Force recently stressed by President Eisenhower and other leaders in the wake of Russia's missile and satellite advances.

Only last week Vice Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Curtis E. LeMay completed a record roundtrip flight between the United States

The rehearsal party was held in the home of the bridegroom's parents on Oct. 10.

The look of costume jewelry this year is the real look, done with simplicity and elegance. Satin-finished gold bracelets (upper left) are Florentine in feeling, are prettiest worn in pairs. Aurora beads are coupled with fake pearls in topaz color to make (upper right) three-strand bib, drop earrings and bracelet. The pieces are polished for a lustrous look. Chevron-styled necklace, bracelet and earrings (lower left) are done in rhinestones that have been set with all of the care usually reserved for real jewelry. The last of these Leru designs (lower right) is the multi-strand bib à la Chanel, shown here in tones of beige and butterscotch.—By GAILLE DUGAS, NEA Women's Editor.

The Way of the Dictator

Editorial — By BRUCE BLOSSAT

Not since the death of Stalin in 1953 has any serious student of Soviet communism doubted that sooner or later the struggle for power among his successors would lead again to one-man rule. The only question was who the man would be.

Recent developments in Russia make it unmistakably clear that Nikita Khrushchev is trying to be that man.

But, though he has given Marshal Zhukov a cynical shove toward the abyss, Khrushchev is not yet triumphant.

Indications from Moscow suggest that Zhukov still has important support in the Red Army hierarchy. Khrushchev must effectively snuff out that support before he can truly be said to have consolidated his hold upon the powerful military.

As a matter of fact, Khrushchev even before the Zhukov ouster as defense minister was still busy completing his purge of the supporters of Molotov, Malenkov and Kaganovich, whom he sent into limbo last spring.

The business of making oneself a dictator is no overnight affair. Stalin was occupied with it from the mid-1920's until 1938. Khrushchev still may have a considerable distance to go.

But it is revealing of the ugly, unstable nature of Soviet communism that in his effort to get there he had to cast into political, if not total disgrace, the Soviet war hero, Zhukov.

The charges lodged against the marshal in bouncing him from his party posts add up to one thing: He was guilty of putting the Red Army above the Communist party, and above the party boss, Khrushchev.

In the latter's book, this is a double sin. To the extent that he fought party influence in the army, Zhukov placed himself directly athwart Khrushchev's personal quest for the dictator's scepter.

But even if the party boss had no such goal, the marshal could still be faulted. For in a Communist government there is no room for divided allegiances of any sort. There can be but one authority, and all others—army, church, rival parties—must be either crushed or held subservient.

In Russia the party is that authority. It has and will accept army help toward its goal of power. But it will not share the spoils, nor allow its supremacy to be challenged.

Nevertheless, the way of the would-be dictator is never easy. Rivals must be crushed, but new ones rise in their place. Menace lurks behind every pillar in the Kremlin. Brother Khrushchev has his work cut out for him.

Kansas will celebrate its 100th anniversary as a state on Jan. 29, 1961.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round
By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Dulles Prepares Revolutionary Plan For World Defense; He Wants Stevenson To Help Him Sell It; Adlai Would Rather Be Secretary Of State Than President.

WASHINGTON. — If you get a glimpse at the advance plans John Foster Dulles has for the NATO meeting in Paris you can readily understand why he wants Adlai Stevenson to stand by his side to give him a helping hand. Dulles will need all the support he can get from Stevenson and the Democrats, since he isn't likely to get much from old guard Republicans.

For he has worked out the most revolutionary plan of free-world defense ever contemplated in the history of individual nations. So far it's tentative and subject to change. It depends in part on Stevenson's reaction. But what Dulles wants to sell is such a complete coordination of West European defense that France might give up her navy to depend on the British and American navies, while England might give up long range bombers to depend on American bombers.

Here are the outlines of the tentative work plan for western free-world defense:

1. A pool of western scientific resources, not only of scientists, but of laboratories and equipment.
2. A joint training program, whereby the best science students would study at any university, whether British, American or German. Thus an Italian student might go to Germany, a Greek student to the United States. There would be an international pool of scientific training.
3. A military pool, as outlined above, whereby expensive land armies are curtailed in favor of pushbutton warfare.
4. Finally, the United States and England would build up an arsenal of nuclear weapons and guided missiles in Europe.

U. S. GUARANTEE

This involves the most revolutionary step of all. For what Dulles and Eisenhower will have to sell the smaller nations of Europe is that the Anglo-Saxon nations reserve the power to decide when Europe will go to war or when it won't. It will be their decision as to when this stockpile shall be used. Eisenhower and Macmillan do not want to permit Belgium, Greece, Denmark et al to dip into the atomic stockpile when they may be worried about war; only if England and the United States are ready to go to war.

Selling this will not be easy. In order to sell it, Dulles proposes a solemn pledge that the United States will come to the aid of any free European nation if attacked; that we will go all-out to protect it with every weapon in the arsenal—even if this involves retaliatory bombardment of American cities.

This is the trump card Dulles proposes to play, and this is where Adlai Stevenson comes in. His job will be to keep the Democrats in line.

FEAR OF CONGRESS

If you study the diplomacy of John Foster Dulles you come to the inescapable conclusion that his chief failures have resulted not from lack of brain, but lack of courage. Today he has two great fears: One is Russia; the other is the congress of the United States.

And much as the administration is worried about Russia, much as it fears their ICBM and new scientific victories, even more it seems to fear Congress.

In the past, Dulles and Eisenhower could always fall back on the Democrats for support. They knew they could expect little from such pillars of Republicanism as Sens. John Bricker of Ohio, Styles

Bridges of New Hampshire, Bill Jenner of Indiana, or, in many cases, Bill Knowland of California. These stalwart GOPers have been against almost every plank in the Eisenhower-Dulles foreign affairs platform, because basically Eisenhower-Dulles are following New Deal foreign affairs policies.

So Dulles knew he could fall back on the Democrats.

Today, however, he can't. The Democrats are irked, sore, and rebellious. They are all too aware of the fact that the Republican national committee is continuing to mail out reams of publicity accusing them of getting the nation into two world wars; still branding them as guilty of 20 years of treason. Democrats also see the Eisenhower missile-satellite setback as their political victory. And they know that GOP Chairman Meade ALCORN has warned the White House that public-opinion polls show Sputnik means political disaster for the Republicans. Sputnik, ALCORN has reported, is the basic reason for fantastic Democratic majorities in New Jersey and New York.

The Democrats know this, and John Foster Dulles knows that they know it. That's why he is clutching at the coattails of the once-scorned egghead, Adlai Stevenson.

SECRETARY OF STATE STEVENSON??

Close friends of Adlai Stevenson are firmly convinced he will never again run for president, but that he does cherish the ambition to become secretary of state in the next administration—which he hopes and believes will be Democratic.

Stevenson's greatest interest has always been foreign affairs. He worked on British-American problems in London during part of the war, was later the first to propose a republic rather than a kingdom for Italy; attended the San Francisco conference in 1945 which hammered out the foundation format of the United Nations.

During the Truman-Dewey campaign of 1948, John Foster Dulles campaigned so vigorously against Truman that White House press spokesman Charlie Ross announced Dulles would not be welcomed back as adviser to the Democratic State Department. One day later Dean Acheson reversed this, and Dulles did come back. He remained for four years, working side-by-side with the Democratic secretary of state.

Stevenson's friends say a similar role for him alongside the present Republican secretary of state would give him invaluable training to be next secretary of state—if and when.

Complainant Pays Defendant's Fine

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP)—Dr. Alfred Stappenbeck, Humboldt, Neb., wanted to prove his point, but didn't want anyone hurt by it.

Stappenbeck filed a traffic complaint against Cecil Bennett, Falls City, then paid the $20 fine when the justice of the peace found Bennett guilty.

Stappenbeck said Bennett, a truck driver, passed a bus going uphill and narrowly missed a head-on collision with Stappenbeck's car. Bennett denied he violated a traffic law.

Stappenbeck said he wanted to prove Bennett was wrong, but didn't want to penalize him financially.
